

Signposts for communicating with patients about evidence

Working group
Sicily meeting 2003

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for a resource book for communicating? •How can we elicit pt values effectively and efficiently? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Are there examples of EB pt change? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carer → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values / preferences to	•What do patients want to know?	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carer	EB information to be available to inform patient				but decision
 Informs patient expectations, values and preferences
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform patients	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence 	•How is EB pt communication best implemented?	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about consent) •DIBLE (decision for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provides guidelines for clinicians Information support services	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision and in research agendas	resources be used in different cultural contexts		guidelines for informed consent transpare consumer te country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Are there examples of EB pt change? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carer → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carer	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of communicating patients with the evidence 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about consent) •DECIDABLE (decision support for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provide consumer guidelines leaflets resources for clinicians	Information support services	and in research agendas	resources be used in different cultural contexts	guidelines for informed consent Transpare consumer e te country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Are there examples of EB pt change? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

- What do patients want to know?
- What methods of communication are effective?

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How to best 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about patient) •DIBLE (decision for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provide guidance leaflets resources clinicians Information support services	and in research agendas	resources be used in different cultural contexts		guidelines for informed consent Transpare consumer te Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Are there examples of EB pt change? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about consent) •DIBBLE (decision for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provide consumer guidelines leaflets resources for clinicians Information support services	and in research agendas	resources be used in different cultural contexts		guidelines for informed consent Transpare consumer te country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Are there examples of EB pt change? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

See appendix

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to	•What do patients want to know?	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform				Appendix ERN (patient information about consent) DIBLE (decision support for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	and in research agendas	resources be used in different cultural contexts		guidelines for informed consent transpare consumer te country-specific patient information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB patient change?	•How effective is training in CA for patients? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

Evidence-based information to be available to inform patients

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carer → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carer	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for a resource book for communicating? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we ensure pt values are communicated efficiently? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills				<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we ensure training in communication is effective? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient
				<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we ensure media achievements are effective?

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for a resource book for communicating? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools?			...mit pt values efficiently?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills				...training in ...media achieve ...s?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carer → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carer	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for a resource book for communicating? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts)
Problem-specific EB information			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for a resource book for communicating? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we elicit pt values effectively and efficiently? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we elicit pt values effectively and efficiently? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we elicit pt values effectively and efficiently? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carer → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values and preferences	Provides values /preferences to integrate into clinical decision	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What do patients want to know? •What methods of communication are effective? 	Are there culture differences in the values patients bring to EB decisions?	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carer	EB information to be available to inform patients	Patients to have a more active role in decisions if they prefer	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •What methods of informing patients about the evidence are effective? •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for research for communicating? 	See appendix <ul style="list-style-type: none"> •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •See appendix •DISCERN (pt information about treatment) •CREDIBLE (decision aids for pts) 			<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills				<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we appraise the quality of pt information and communication tools? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How is EB pt communication best implemented? •Do different clinical problems require different methods? •Is there a need for research for communicating?

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info				appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, resources for clinicians Information support services	development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

•Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians
 •Information support services

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas			appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Can inv deve and ev of resou and in res arch agendas	How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts	•How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated?	•GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	•How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info				Appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Cons involved development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	Can EB resources be disseminated? Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts	•How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated?	•GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	•How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

•How can EB resources be disseminated?
•Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 		appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info	Evidence can inform community understanding and values			appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support servi	ation resources in research agendas	How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts	•How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated?	•GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	•How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values, preferences	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EBHC to be informed				See appendix •GMC guidelines for informed consent (pt information about consent) •NICE (decision support for pts)
Pts and communities can drive EB change through their own learning
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Information of and age	How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts	•How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated?	•GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	•How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info		•Are there examples of evidence-based patient-led change?		appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Con involve develop and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	can EB rces be minated? problem- EB es be used in cultural	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can we minimise framing of information? •How can problem-specific EB information be effectively disseminated? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt led change?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient exp val pre	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EB to b info		<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pts? •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 		Appendix ERN (pt ation about ent) DIBLE (decision or pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pt •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific pt information websites (NLH UK, Health Insite Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB pt change?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> •How effective is training in CA for pt •How can the media achieve EB health reports? 	•Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient

	Role of evidence in patient communication	Role of the patient in EBHC	Questions	Research Agenda	Current resources
Pt/carers → Clinician	Informs patient expectations, values, preferences	Provides values	•What do patients	Are there culture differences	See appendix
Clinician → Pt/carers	EBHC to be informed				See appendix •ERN (patient information about consent) •DECIDABLE (decision support for pts)
Problem-specific EB information	Provision of EB consumer guidelines leaflets, EB resources for clinicians Information support services	Consumers involved in development and evaluation of resources and in research agendas	•How can EB resources be disseminated? •Can problem-specific EB resources be used in different cultural contexts	•How can EB information be disseminated?	•GMC guidelines for informed consent •Cochrane consumer website •Country-specific patient information websites (NLH UK, Health website Aust)
EB concepts and skills	Evidence can inform community understanding and values	Pts and communities can drive EB change through own learning	•Are there examples of EB patient change?	•How effective is training in CA for patients? •How can the media achieve EB health reports?	Books – Resourceful patient; Smart Health Choices, Autonomous patient